The client required a uniform, damage-proof solution to showcase a curated collection of POPEYE magazine issues on a residential wall—ensuring the publications remain protected from dust and wear while maintaining full visual clarity of the vibrant covers. FAQs (Focused on Customization & Collection Display)

- Can the display sleeves be customized to fit non-standard magazine sizes?
Yes. We support custom size customization based on the exact dimensions of your magazines/journals, using CNC precision cutting to ensure a perfect fit that prevents slipping while allowing easy insertion.
- Is the ultra-clear acrylic resistant to yellowing when exposed to indoor light for a long time?
Yes. We use UV-stabilized ultra-clear acrylic with an anti-yellowing coating, which can maintain high transparency for more than 5 years in indoor environments and prevent the magazine covers from fading due to light exposure.

3. What mounting methods are available for different wall materials (drywall, tile, wood)?

We provide two mounting options: high-adhesion removable adhesive strips (suitable for smooth walls like tile/wood, no damage) and expansion screws (suitable for drywall, higher load-bearing). Custom mounting solutions can be provided for special wall materials.
